

Are you a research detective? How good are you at finding information? Why not put your investigative skills to work and try to find out the answers to the following questions, puzzles and fun activities to test your enquiry knowledge!

Where to find the information

Go to slguernsey.gg and find your school under 'students'

Select Britannica and use the password 'guernsey' to log in

Type the keywords 'World War II' into the search bar and access WWII page

The Sequencing Challenge!

Read the Events Leading to War section. Use your 'skim and scan' skills to number the events below in the correct order that they happened. The first is numbered for you!

Germany and Italy help the Spanish dictator General Franco in the Spanish Civil War

Germany signs the Munich Agreement

Italy conquer Ethiopia in Africa

Germany and the Soviet Union sign a 'non-aggression pact'

Germany takes control of ALL Czechoslovakia

Germany and Austria sign an 'act of friendship'

1 Japan invade Manchuria

Germany takes control of Austria

Germany and the Soviet Union divide Polish land up between them

TRUE  OR  FALSE

Now you get to mark like a teacher! Some of these facts aren't quite right. Read the Battle of Britain section in Britannica and help mark the answers!

1. Hitler first attacked the British Navy's boats to take control over the skies of Britain
2. In June 1940 the German Luftwaffe started bombing British airfields
3. German warplanes crossed the English Channel from airfields in Jamaica
4. British fighter pilots targeted German bomber planes using high tech sat-nav
5. By the end of the battle Britain lost 900 planes compared to Germany's 1700
6. The bombing raids by Germany on British towns and cities was known as the Blitz

How many answers are correct?

Axis or Allies?

There were two sides in the war. Try to find out which countries were on what side and link them up

Germany, China, Italy, France, USA, Great Britain, Japan, Soviet Union

AXIS, ALLIES

Three symbols!

Get creative! Using the 'War begins in Europe' section on Britannica, read each titled paragraph and see if you can use three pictures or words to then help you to explain the events to a family member. The first one is done for you..

Invasion of Poland

Dunkirk

Fall of France

Germany's Blitzkrieg continues

